3. FACTS WHICH JUSTIFY A SOLE SOURCE PROCUREMENT:

The District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS) recommends College Entrance Examination Board for testing services and materials for the administration of PSAT and the Advanced Placement Exams (AP) at DCPS high schools throughout FY18.

The District of Columbia Public Schools is committed to providing DCPS students with an educational experience that will prepare them for success in college, careers and life. The College Readiness Initiative (CRI) team is particularly focused on supporting a district-wide, college-going culture that makes college a possibility for any DCPS student.

Further, June 19, 2012, the D.C. Council included language in the DC Code (DC ST § 38-752.03) referencing pending graduation requirements for the Class of 2014 and beyond associated with postsecondary planning within schools.

The legislation reads:

(a)(1) Beginning with the graduating class of 2014, the Mayor shall ensure that each public high school student applies to at least one post-secondary institution before graduation.

(2) The Mayor shall ensure that each public high school student participates in a program designed to provide students with information on applying to an appropriate post-secondary institution, including information on financial aid and other resources necessary to streamline a transition to a post-secondary institution. The program may include school-based and non-school-based resources.

(b) The Mayor shall issue a report that details the number of students that attend a post-secondary institution, including the number of students who attend each type, including:

- 1. Universities;*
- 2. Colleges;*
- 3. Vocational schools; and*
- 4. Other post-secondary institutions.*

(c) Beginning with the graduating class of 2014, the Mayor shall require that each student attending public high school takes the SAT or the American College Testing program before graduation.

(d) The Mayor may exempt a student from the requirements of subsections (a)(i) and (c) of this section, if the Mayor determines that it would constitute an undue hardship on the student.

Background and history of this vendor with DCPS

DCPS offers college-level rigorous course offerings to students via the Advanced Placement program at the majority of DCPS high schools. The PSAT 8/9 and the Preliminary SAT are offered to students in all DCPS high schools to prepare them for success with the SAT (and increase college and scholarship options). The results of the PSAT are further used to inform the district and students of the AP courses they might potentially be well matched with using The College Board's AP Potential Tool. The AP Potential tool further informs DCPS of which courses might be fit college level rigorous offerings for DCPS students.

The expectation and preparation for students to be prepared for college matriculation and high school graduation is a consistent measure of the DCPS goal to become the highest performing urban school district in the nation.

College Readiness is the highest priority for high schools at DCPS. Success for the College Readiness Initiative is guided by the following principles:

- All DCPS students' preschool through 12th grade will understand that college is a viable option for each of them.
- All DCPS students will have access to rigorous academic preparation for successful college matriculation and graduation from preschool through 12th grade.

- All DCPS students and families will have access to consistent and informed guidance about the college admission process (choosing a college, funding a college, and graduating college).

The Proposed Vendor's Unique Qualifications:

The College Board is a not-for-profit membership organization committed to excellence and equity in education. The mission of the organization is to connect students to college success and opportunity.

The College Board is the sole source owner of the following programs, examinations, publications, and software, which are not limited to tangible and contain intangible related services and materials collectively referred to as "Official College Board Offerings" but DCPS utilizes the following: PSAT/NMSQT, PSAT 8/9, AP, PSAT 10th grade, and AP Potential.

In light of the above findings a sole source award is in the best interest of the DCPS and would be the most efficient cost-effective procurement method.
